

Dear Actors and Actresses,

Thank you. Watching you audition, be called back, and make these characters your own has given me such an excitement for the potential of what Anon(ymous) could be. All of you brought something unique to your auditions, something necessary to this program, something worth having in this world.

With that being said, it is an 11-person cast. This is undoubtedly the hardest part of every show process. Casting decisions are never easy, and it's always difficult when we have to make choices that mean not everyone will be a part of the final cast. In the nature of casting, the final selections were made with many factors in mind, including the overall vision for the production, character dynamics, and ensemble fit. Unfortunately, this means that, despite giving truly wonderful auditions, you were not cast in this particular production. Please note, that this particular audition is not a reflection of you, your talent, or your potential.

Again, I will reiterate how thankful I am for your hard work and your diligence in your preparations. I encourage you to stay involved in NVHS Theatre, as we have exciting opportunities to come.

Best,
Aspen

Hello Actors and Actresses,

To those of you who are now a part of Anon(ymous), congratulations! You demonstrated a creativity and an approach to the character that surprised me, and I am excited to see what you continue to bring to practices and performance!

We will have our first brief meeting on October 7th after school, for those who can make it. You will receive a script and a brief explanation about the show. Also, expect an email about a field trip opportunity for this show! Details are still being finalized, but we're hoping to do a field trip in mid to late October.

Best,

Aspen
